FEATURING

THE CHARLES RIVER CHILDREN'S CHOIR

Saturday, May 5, 2018 at 7:30 p.m.

Medfield High School Auditorium

Medfield, Massachusetts

May 2018

Dear Audience,

Thank you for joining our 2018 Spring Concert as we all take a trip through the carnivals of America's past! There are not many things more exciting to a child than seeing animals, oddities, and magic while enjoying sweet and salty treats. Personally, some of my favorite childhood memories come from walking the Jersey Shore Point Pleasant Boardwalk on summer nights - taking in the bright lights of the game stands, hearing the sounds of the laughter coming from rides, and enjoying a fabulously messy and sugary funnel cake. I hope tonight's more classic selections will take you through an entertaining and reminiscent trip of your childhood, and that you will enjoy the humor or sentimentality in the songs more "off the beaten path."

Iko Iko! ☺

Our Mission Statement

The intent of the Charles River Chorale is to bring engaging, enriching and enjoyable choral music to the regional community. This welcoming chorus, under professional direction, learns and performs a variety of repertoire and meets once a week for two hours, preparing for two concerts per year.

PROGRAM NOTES

The program notes for Animal Crackers are excerpts from the volume introductions by Eric Whitacre.

Animal Crackers - Volume I

I've always dreamed of writing a substantial collection of choral works that might enter the standard choral repertoire, something with the depth and passion of Monteverdi's Fourth Book of Madrigals and the charm and timelessness of Brahms's Liebeslieder Waltzes.

I wrote this instead.

This is the first 'volume' of "Animal Crackers," and if everything goes as planned, I'll write several more. (Ogden Nash wrote scores of these ridiculous animal poems, all of them crying out for musical settings.)

Animal Crackers - Volume II

Just when you thought it was safe to go back in the water...

Here, humbly presented for your enjoyment, is Volume II of the Animal Crackers.

As always, my most sincere apologies to the animal kingdom.

Eric Whitacre

The Panther (from Volume I)

The panther is like a leopard except it hasn't been peppered.
If you behold a panther crouch
prepare to say, "ouch."
Better yet if called by a panther,
don't anther.

The Canary (from Volume II)

The song of the canaries
never varies,
never varies.
And when they're moulting,
they're pretty revolting.

The Cow (from Volume I)

Moo moo
The cow is of the Bovine ilk
One end is moo
The other milk.

The Kangaroo (from Volume II)

O kangaroo, O kangaroo,
be grateful that you're in the zoo.
And not transmuted by a boomerang
into zestful, tangy kangaroo meringue.

Tournez, Tournez (Turn Around, Turn Around)

On the surface, "Tournez, Tournez" is a piece about a carousel turning around, bedecked with colorful wooden horses. The riders are crying, "Turn around!" ("Tournez, tournez!") "Turn a hundred times!" (Tournez cent!"). Night soon falls, the merriment subsides, and the people go home. Then another day dawn ("Aurora calls"), the carousel starts to turn, and excitement begins all over again! The percussion emulates the sounds of whirling machines and people scurrying about in a carnival atmosphere.

On a deeper level, (if one reads the rather lengthy "Chevaux de bois" poem), the text is a commentary on the self-imposed chaos of much of our lives - just going around in never-ending circles, while still desiring to do more ("go faster")! Life slows down just long enough for sleep, and the next morning the frenzy begins all over again in this foolish circus of life.

Turn around, turn around!

"Tournez, tournez!" ["Turn around, turn around!"]

Turn around, turn around

Wooden horses!

Carousel, turn in a blur unending!

"Tournez cent, tournez toujours!" ["Turn a hundred times, turn forever!"]

Turn around the oboe!

Turn around the drum!

"Tournez, tournez!" ["Turn around, turn around!"]

Le gars en noir et la fille en rose, [the boy in black and the girl in red,]

L'une à la chose et l'autre à la. [One casually standing, one striking a pose.]

The night falls, church bells toll.

"Tournez, tournez!" ["Turn around, turn around!"]

Horses and carousel,

Young and old go to sleep.

Aurora* calls! "Retournez!" ["Return!"]

"Tournez, tournez!" ["Turn around, turn around!"]

Wooden horses! "Tournez!" ["Turn around!"]

*Aurora - goddess of dawn
